

The EIIA International Travel Program Description of Coverage

Drew University is insured through Educational & Institutional Insurance Administrators, Inc. (EIIA). Drew's membership in EIIA's International Travel Program includes broad, internationally valid insurance coverage and travel assistance to students, faculty and staff participating in an international program. Students, staff and faculty traveling abroad on a Drew University sponsored program are automatically covered under this insurance policy. No "activation" is necessary.

All students participating in a Drew sponsored international should acknowledge having received, read, and understood the information provided about the EIIA International Travel Program at www.eiia.org/ForeignAssist, particularly the Brochure and Insurance Summary.