The College of Liberal Arts

54 Cliff Edwards is celebrating his 40th year of teaching at Virginia Commonwealth University in Richmond, Virginia. In December 2015, he was awarded the VCU Presidential Medal of Exceptional Contribution to the University and was appointed to a new position, Professor Edwards Distinguished Professor of Religion and the Arts. Cliff recently published his fourth book on the artist Vincent Van Gogh: Van Gogh’s Ghost Paintings: Art and Spirit in the VCU Presidential Medallion for Outstanding University in Richmond, Virginia. He has been living in his home for 10 years more than twice as long as they lived in any one place.

The highlight of 2016 for Jo (Gimmerman) and Vern Wishart C’58 C’60 was their 40th anniversary, celebrated on Vern’s 80th birthday which was two days after their actual date. They had 32 family members in attendance and had a great time.

55 The answer to the riddle ... who among us at Drew played squash for 10 years and did the running long jump? I recall that Bob (Deaver) Adams said that the snows of yesteryear? Rather, where are my French phrases for this column? I am dredging up two French phrases for this column. I am still reeling from the “D” programming at the University of Virginia law school, where he leads the Center for National Security Law and the Center for Oceans Law and Policy. As the Walter L. Brown Professor of Law, he teaches classes in two subject areas, and seminars on the rule of law and the environment of water."

56 Nancy “Nicki” (Dietrich) Richards is writing the history of the United Methodist Church in New York, for her 60th high school reunion. She has been active in church work and volunteering with the local food pantry as a volunteer, a member of the board of the service agency. Nancy was delighted to receive an email from the “left coast.” She’s a retired plastic surgeon living in La Jolla, California.

57 Bill Cardoni has been in various things, singing in the church choir, volunteering in the community, serving as treasurer of a social group and their oldest grandson is a sophomore at Shepherd Village.

58 Nancy Naab C’59, T’59 was at his daughter, Ellen, Ellen’s husband and their oldest grandson is a sophomore at Shepherd Village.

59 Eleanor (Chlodos) Stearns ekbatan@rochester. 60th Reunion Woody T’54 celebrated their 60th anniversary in mid-2017. She was on the committee for the 100th anniversary, joined the board of trustees, wrote the history of the United Methodist Church in New York, for her 60th high school reunion. She has been active in church work and volunteering with the local food pantry as a volunteer, a member of the board of the service agency. Nancy was delighted to receive an email from the “left coast.” She’s a retired plastic surgeon living in La Jolla, California.

The answer to the riddle … who among us at Drew played squash for 10 years and did the running long jump? I recall that Bob (Deaver) Adams said that the snows of yesteryear? Rather, where are my French phrases for this column? I am dredging up two French phrases for this column. I am still reeling from the “D” programming at the University of Virginia law school, where he leads the Center for National Security Law and the Center for Oceans Law and Policy. As the Walter L. Brown Professor of Law, he teaches classes in two subject areas, and seminars on the rule of law and the environment of water."

56 Nancy “Nicki” (Dietrich) Richards is writing the history of the United Methodist Church in New York, for her 60th high school reunion. She has been active in church work and volunteering with the local food pantry as a volunteer, a member of the board of the service agency. Nancy was delighted to receive an email from the “left coast.” She’s a retired plastic surgeon living in La Jolla, California.

57 Bill Cardoni has been in various things, singing in the church choir, volunteering in the community, serving as treasurer of a social group and their oldest grandson is a sophomore at Shepherd Village.

58 Nancy Naab C’59, T’59 was at his daughter, Ellen, Ellen’s husband and their oldest grandson is a sophomore at Shepherd Village.
April 2016 and met President Baenninger. Bruce says that there are a lot different on campus, but it reports that it is still beautiful.

Susan (Holmes) Brady and husband Bruce retired to Cape Cod, Massachusetts, in May 2010. The Brady have two sons, 11 grandchildren and their first great-grandhawk, born in October 2016. Susan volunteers at two nursing homes, playing the piano and leading old-time songs for the residents a couple of times a week. Sue and Bruce are active in their church music ministry as well. Sounds like a healthy, active lifestyle to me. Sue remembers your freshman year house mother at Lewis House, Lisa Petry. Is there such a thing anymore?

Thank you both for writing. I hope you do more.

---

Charles (Duffie) Caul

It was wonderful to hear from May Stimson (Lewin) in Australia. May said her trip was spectacular, the wildlife amazing and the scenery absolutely beautiful. Next, she is off to warmer weather in California in February. She noticed the beautiful trees and the loads of fun, as mine, and we both laughed. I am certain that she will have a delightful trip. She will celebrate his 50th reunion at Drew. I would be thrilled to hear about your travels and interests.

---

Rhonda (Baker) Doolin

This year Doolin was surprised and pleased to receive a President’s Lifetime Achievement Award in March 2017 for her volunteer efforts with the U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary’s Joint Reserve Component, which she has been a member of for many years. Doolin received the award from U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary National Commander, Capt. Robert Angell.

Doolin’s award is a result of the reunion. Please see next issue.

---

Robert (Bill) Harrall C’62, P’92

Harrall is still residing in New York City in March as a result of the reunion. Please see next issue.

---

David Bloch was retired to Cape Cod, Massachusetts, in May 2010. The Brady have two sons, 11 grandchildren and their first great-grandhawk, born in October 2016. Susan volunteers at two nursing homes, playing the piano and leading old-time songs for the residents a couple of times a week. Sue and Bruce are active in their church music ministry as well. Sounds like a healthy, active lifestyle to me. Sue remembers your freshman year house mother at Lewis House, Lisa Petry. Is there such a thing anymore?

Thank you both for writing. I hope you do more.

---

Charles (Duffie) Caul

It was wonderful to hear from May Stimson (Lewin) in Australia. May said her trip was spectacular, the wildlife amazing and the scenery absolutely beautiful. Next, she is off to warmer weather in California in February. She noticed the beautiful trees and the loads of fun, as mine, and we both laughed. I am certain that she will have a delightful trip. She will celebrate his 50th reunion at Drew. I would be thrilled to hear about your travels and interests.

---

Rhonda (Baker) Doolin

This year Doolin was surprised and pleased to receive a President’s Lifetime Achievement Award in March 2017 for her volunteer efforts with the U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary’s Joint Reserve Component, which she has been a member of for many years. Doolin received the award from U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary National Commander, Capt. Robert Angell.

Doolin’s award is a result of the reunion. Please see next issue.

---

Robert (Bill) Harrall C’62, P’92

Harrall is still residing in New York City in March as a result of the reunion. Please see next issue.

---

David Bloch was retired to Cape Cod, Massachusetts, in May 2010. The Brady have two sons, 11 grandchildren and their first great-grandhawk, born in October 2016. Susan volunteers at two nursing homes, playing the piano and leading old-time songs for the residents a couple of times a week. Sue and Bruce are active in their church music ministry as well. Sounds like a healthy, active lifestyle to me. Sue remembers your freshman year house mother at Lewis House, Lisa Petry. Is there such a thing anymore?

Thank you both for writing. I hope you do more.

---

Charles (Duffie) Caul

It was wonderful to hear from May Stimson (Lewin) in Australia. May said her trip was spectacular, the wildlife amazing and the scenery absolutely beautiful. Next, she is off to warmer weather in California in February. She noticed the beautiful trees and the loads of fun, as mine, and we both laughed. I am certain that she will have a delightful trip. She will celebrate his 50th reunion at Drew. I would be thrilled to hear about your travels and interests.

---

Rhonda (Baker) Doolin

This year Doolin was surprised and pleased to receive a President’s Lifetime Achievement Award in March 2017 for her volunteer efforts with the U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary’s Joint Reserve Component, which she has been a member of for many years. Doolin received the award from U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary National Commander, Capt. Robert Angell.

Doolin’s award is a result of the reunion. Please see next issue.

---

Robert (Bill) Harrall C’62, P’92

Harrall is still residing in New York City in March as a result of the reunion. Please see next issue.

---

David Bloch was retired to Cape Cod, Massachusetts, in May 2010. The Brady have two sons, 11 grandchildren and their first great-grandhawk, born in October 2016. Susan volunteers at two nursing homes, playing the piano and leading old-time songs for the residents a couple of times a week. Sue and Bruce are active in their church music ministry as well. Sounds like a healthy, active lifestyle to me. Sue remembers your freshman year house mother at Lewis House, Lisa Petry. Is there such a thing anymore?

Thank you both for writing. I hope you do more.

---

Charles (Duffie) Caul

It was wonderful to hear from May Stimson (Lewin) in Australia. May said her trip was spectacular, the wildlife amazing and the scenery absolutely beautiful. Next, she is off to warmer weather in California in February. She noticed the beautiful trees and the loads of fun, as mine, and we both laughed. I am certain that she will have a delightful trip. She will celebrate his 50th reunion at Drew. I would be thrilled to hear about your travels and interests.

---

Rhonda (Baker) Doolin

This year Doolin was surprised and pleased to receive a President’s Lifetime Achievement Award in March 2017 for her volunteer efforts with the U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary’s Joint Reserve Component, which she has been a member of for many years. Doolin received the award from U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary National Commander, Capt. Robert Angell.

Doolin’s award is a result of the reunion. Please see next issue.

---

Robert (Bill) Harrall C’62, P’92

Harrall is still residing in New York City in March as a result of the reunion. Please see next issue.

---

David Bloch was retired to Cape Cod, Massachusetts, in May 2010. The Brady have two sons, 11 grandchildren and their first great-grandhawk, born in October 2016. Susan volunteers at two nursing homes, playing the piano and leading old-time songs for the residents a couple of times a week. Sue and Bruce are active in their church music ministry as well. Sounds like a healthy, active lifestyle to me. Sue remembers your freshman year house mother at Lewis House, Lisa Petry. Is there such a thing anymore?

Thank you both for writing. I hope you do more.

---

Charles (Duffie) Caul

It was wonderful to hear from May Stimson (Lewin) in Australia. May said her trip was spectacular, the wildlife amazing and the scenery absolutely beautiful. Next, she is off to warmer weather in California in February. She noticed the beautiful trees and the loads of fun, as mine, and we both laughed. I am certain that she will have a delightful trip. She will celebrate his 50th reunion at Drew. I would be thrilled to hear about your travels and interests.

---

Rhonda (Baker) Doolin

This year Doolin was surprised and pleased to receive a President’s Lifetime Achievement Award in March 2017 for her volunteer efforts with the U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary’s Joint Reserve Component, which she has been a member of for many years. Doolin received the award from U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary National Commander, Capt. Robert Angell.

Doolin’s award is a result of the reunion. Please see next issue.

---

Robert (Bill) Harrall C’62, P’92

Harrall is still residing in New York City in March as a result of the reunion. Please see next issue.

---

David Bloch was retired to Cape Cod, Massachusetts, in May 2010. The Brady have two sons, 11 grandchildren and their first great-grandhawk, born in October 2016. Susan volunteers at two nursing homes, playing the piano and leading old-time songs for the residents a couple of times a week. Sue and Bruce are active in their church music ministry as well. Sounds like a healthy, active lifestyle to me. Sue remembers your freshman year house mother at Lewis House, Lisa Petry. Is there such a thing anymore?

Thank you both for writing. I hope you do more.

---

Charles (Duffie) Caul

It was wonderful to hear from May Stimson (Lewin) in Australia. May said her trip was spectacular, the wildlife amazing and the scenery absolutely beautiful. Next, she is off to warmer weather in California in February. She noticed the beautiful trees and the loads of fun, as mine, and we both laughed. I am certain that she will have a delightful trip. She will celebrate his 50th reunion at Drew. I would be thrilled to hear about your travels and interests.

---

Rhonda (Baker) Doolin

This year Doolin was surprised and pleased to receive a President’s Lifetime Achievement Award in March 2017 for her volunteer efforts with the U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary’s Joint Reserve Component, which she has been a member of for many years. Doolin received the award from U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary National Commander, Capt. Robert Angell.

Doolin’s award is a result of the reunion. Please see next issue.
chicken and lamb, washed down with red, white and blue sangria, were served, and Andy Rupp, Micky Green ’79, Steve Thompson ’85, F’95, Tony Battacavallo ’82, Bill Ehlers ’82, Liu Almeda ’83, Joe Genover ’83, Chris (Robbbie) Van Cleef ’86, Chris Van Cleef ’87, Robin Brow C’84, Pat Capriglione C’82. Charlie Russo-Cammarone C’86 and his two sons, Edith (Weid) Marucci C’85 and Tony Marucci C’85. Missing from this most recent festivities was John Spanarkle C’82. See page 49.

We found another excuse to get together this spring, as Tony Battacavallo and his wife Delane, are expecting their second child. When Tony was in the area, we threw him a baby shower in Maplewood, New Jersey. About 25 Drewers showed up, and many more sent regrets. Jimmy Nicolson C’85 came up from the D.C. area with his wife, Elizabeth, who noted that it’s “just plain weird that 25 years after you were in school, you can get to know many people together on the spur of the moment.” I can’t argue that point.

Shaan at the baby shower was “A da Hoopla” Hoffman C’79, who flew in from the Carolinas, Gary Castello C’82, Lisa (King) Nolet C’84 and Joseph “Chip” Nolet. Jennifer (Selton) Pinticha C’85 and her husband, Steve; Paul Gormley C’84, down from Boston; Greg Leeman C’77; Rob Joyce C’92 and his wife, Dana, didn’t tell Drew New; Erik Lutheran C’82; Rick Curran C’82; Bill Ehlers C’82; Barry Friedmam C’83 (on Siegel C’81); Rob Muir C’83; Rich Oronato C’81, Doug Walski (London semester ’79); Luis Almeda and Tony and Edith Marucci.

81 Robyn Shriever and Italo Iglesias, a professional dancer, have created a 501(c)(3) charitable organization known as RIDE. RIDE’s mission is to produce dance shows and other special events. Visit ridevents.org for more information.

Marc Scardella celebrates 20 years with PACE. He is also slated for the chair of the Public Affairs Council, a nonpartisan and nonpolitical association for government and public affairs professionals worldwide. Marc is planning a dream trip to Australia and the Great Barrier Reef.

39 John Hammett jhammett@comcast.net

Andrew Liput lives in Mountain Lakes, New Jersey, with his wife, Jackylyn, and they recently celebrated their 20th wedding anniversary. He is the CEO of a banking industry risk management firm, and also flies search and rescue missions as a captain in the U.S. Air Force Auxiliary. They have four daughters, spanning in ages from late teens to under 10. Their third daughter attended summer soccer camp at Drew the past few summers.

Mead Winters just completed 25 years of service in the same elementary school in Passaic, New Jersey. Mead notes sad losses in recent years, including both of Mead’s parents, dear friend Dan Castell C’83 and Mead’s ex. Mead gets together with Bob Schnell, Marti Repetto C’83, Paul Cortellesi, Nancy Chiado and Peggy (Hamilton) DeFina C’83. Allen Kozik sent greetings to his Class of 1984 classmates through LinkedIn.

After 24 years in international education, including programs in France and Madagascar, Heidi Fischler became a registered nurse in Bowling Green, Kentucky, in 2010. She now works in an emergency room in her established statewide home base of southern Vermont. She happily has no kids, but has a boyfriedn of 11 years. She is still in touch with Alex (Ivany) ’83.

86 Sandra A. Miller Samiller2092@gmail.com

Bob Daily C’86, F’95 was appointed to the College Alumni Association, which works closely with the University Office of Alumni and Parent Relations to promote and support Drew. Bob is the only C’86 graduate on the long list of 1984 classmates through LinkedIn. He has three daughters, with two of them graduating in 2019. He recently caught up with Joe Houde to discuss crowdfunding on his The Network Impact UK Conference on Thanksgiving Day.

Peter Bruckman jr drewclassof1995@gmail.com

Michael Barrett Jones is kept busy by his fundraising alumni efforts. Wilbur, who produces three to four cabinets for charity in New York City each year, and has joined the board of F拥en Street East, the largest one-day LGBTQ+ festival on the East Coast.

Kathleen Minogue travelled to London to speak about crowdfunding and economic development at the Crowdfunding Deep Impact UK Conference on Wednesday. She recently caught up with Joe Houde to discuss crowdfunding on his The Network Leader podcast. She tells us he is writing a book on the subject.

Tremblay-Les Droguere has been teaching for 19 years, after spending the first three years after graduation as a professional stage manager. She is currently teaching English to a great bunch of sixth-graders at Rosa Parks Community School in Orange, New Jersey.

Matt Savare is a partner at the law firm of Lernack Ellison, specializing in media, entertainment and digital advertising law. He recently launched a new company that makes changing your television announcer as easy as changing the channel, and is currently raising money in a seed round to finish the app. For more information, check out Lernack.com.

Elizabeth Vizard celebrated her 17th year working at the federal Environmental Protection Agency, where she received a 2017 Manager of the Year award. Family Album

Drew Zoni was born in September 2016 to parents Bart Zoni C’01 and his wife, Anna.

The Connelly–Thoens wedding, May 27, 2016
Front row: Anna Tepanen C’06, Kara Higgins C’05, Cristina Venkios C’06, Stefano Lemos C’06, Vanessa Cordoni C’05, Brit, Homer (Anna’s husband), Amy Finch C’05, Jacob Calais C’05, Jessica Noran C’05, Scott Fughe R (aka the “Turk” Kid) (Sandra’s husband), Laurence (Sandra) Boycot C’07, Tom (Kurt) Kamps C’03, Nick Rhoads C’05.

Christina Carlson cmcarlson@drew.edu Lori Ferrars loriferrars@gmail.com Vanesa Allen was nominated by President Obama and confirmed by the U.S. Senate in late 2015 to be the agency head for the U.S. Chemical Safety and Hazard Investigation Board in Washington, D.C. She is a 2017 recipient of the University of Richmond’s annual Standing on the Shoulders of Giants Award. She was also chosen as a 2017 commencement speaker by the Indiana University of Pennsylvania. 25th Reunion

Drew (Pirozzi) Massow dawmms@hotmail.com

Rita M. Aquilu joined the law firm of Neims McLaughlin & Marcus, P.A. in March 2017. She is practicing extensively in the areas of divorce, child support, custody and post-judgment issues.

Jessica (Coburn) and Mary Coburn C’97, shown with Lisa Conrades C’84 at her wedding.

Catherine Magra C’83 recently published her first novel.

Samantha (Goodison) Hefele C’95 and her husband, Scott, are enjoying a life with their new children, first is Eva, 3.

Drew Magazine | Classnotes | College of Liberal Arts

classnotes@drew.edu | Summer 2017 51
Jennifer Williams C’05 and her husband, Alfonso Guevara, on their June 2016 wedding day.

Jennifer: Winter 2017
LEADERSHIP, ENRICHMENT, COMMITMENT

Drew Society members contributed 83 percent of all philanthropic support to Drew in fiscal year 2016-2017—that's $9.6 million raised for the annual fund, campus improvements, support for faculty and programs, and other funds that benefit our talented students. Learn more at drew.edu/drewsociety
Megan Wallner, a living environment teacher at St. Peter’s Prep, lived in Brooklyn, New York, from 2007 to 2016. She took a graduate course as part of her degree in environmental studies from Seattle University’s earth ecosystems program, studying the ecological, cultural, and spiritual landscapes of India’s Western Ghats. Olivia (Drozine) Howell lives on Long Island with her husband Eric and two sons—Weston Jackson, 3, and Wyatt William, 9 months. She runs her own PR and social media marketing company, Howell Media House, and still stays in touch with her best girls from Drew!

Emily (Perks) Quinn and her husband, William, welcomed a son, Nathaniel William, on December 5, 2016. She is working as a program coordinator at the Academy of Fine Arts in Philadelphia, and is enjoying her time there. See photo, page 51.

Peter and Kristin (Valle) Michaelson proudly welcomed their daughter, Selah Rose, in late September. Victor Garcia and Diana Santiago were married at Drew University on June 16, 2016. They welcomed their son, Vicente Xavier, on March 20, 2017. See photo, page 52.

Erika (Palmer) Stazio erika.palmer@gmail.com
Erika Palmer married Joseph Stazio in Scotch Plains, New Jersey, on August 5, 2016. Several Drews were in attendance as bridesmaids and groomsmen. She is a high school counselor in Clark, New Jersey. See photo, page 53.

Maria Elías has moved back to New Jersey, where she has taken a position as an event planner. Her essay on finding her family’s roots in Turkey is slated for publication in Zephyr. A Gathering of Istanbul in Chester, New York, in 2017. She looks forward to getting back in touch with her fellow Drews in the United States, and her contact information is available through Alumnii.House.

Jessica (Yaneffski) Fuest and her husband, Evan, are happy to announce the birth of their son, Corbin Kostantin Fuest, on August 20, 2016. Corbin is the grandchild of Jocelyn Lewis C’06 and was her bridesmaid. Also in attendance were Melissa Cardiello-Lewis C’02, Laura Fernandez Fuest and her son, Davis, who was baptized at the First Presbyterian Church of Eustis (Florida) in March 2017 as an intern pastor. He is the 22nd pastor to lead First Presbyterian Eustis. Vincent J. Rufino C’02 presented a series of four lectures, based on his doctoral research, at the Library of the Chathamns (New Jersey) in the fall of 2016. Using recordings of music and primary sources, including Mozart family letters, participants were able to discuss how material in the music itself differed from the truth. Vincent is currently in his seventh year as an adjunct professor of music history and theory and clarinet at the College of St. Elizabeth. Julie M. Pfister C’07 has published his sixth book, Outing an American Republic, The Oregon and Washington of 1848 (University of Nebraska Press, February 2016). He has also signed for a new book with McFarland on the early Supreme Court.

Daniel Moran C’14 has published a book, Creating Jersey (Center for University of Georgia Press, 2017). Daniel says the book was based on his Caspersen doctoral dissertation, and it traces the development of M. O’Connor’s new-icomic standing in American literature.

Drew Magazine I Classnotes I College of Liberal Arts

Rose, in December 2016.

Drew Magazine I Classnotes I College of Liberal Arts

Rose, in December 2016.

Drew Magazine I Classnotes I College of Liberal Arts

Rose, in December 2016.

Drew Magazine I Classnotes I College of Liberal Arts

Drew Magazine I Classnotes I College of Liberal Arts

Drew Magazine I Classnotes I College of Liberal Arts

Drew Magazine I Classnotes I College of Liberal Arts

Drew Magazine I Classnotes I College of Liberal Arts

Drew Magazine I Classnotes I College of Liberal Arts

Drew Magazine I Classnotes I College of Liberal Arts

Drew Magazine I Classnotes I College of Liberal Arts

Drew Magazine I Classnotes I College of Liberal Arts

Drew Magazine I Classnotes I College of Liberal Arts

Drew Magazine I Classnotes I College of Liberal Arts

Drew Magazine I Classnotes I College of Liberal Arts

Drew Magazine I Classnotes I College of Liberal Arts

Drew Magazine I Classnotes I College of Liberal Arts

Drew Magazine I Classnotes I College of Liberal Arts

Drew Magazine I Classnotes I College of Liberal Arts

Drew Magazine I Classnotes I College of Liberal Arts

Drew Magazine I Classnotes I College of Liberal Arts

Drew Magazine I Classnotes I College of Liberal Arts

Drew Magazine I Classnotes I College of Liberal Arts

Drew Magazine I Classnotes I College of Liberal Arts

Drew Magazine I Classnotes I College of Liberal Arts

Drew Magazine I Classnotes I College of Liberal Arts

Drew Magazine I Classnotes I College of Liberal Arts

Drew Magazine I Classnotes I College of Liberal Arts

Drew Magazine I Classnotes I College of Liberal Arts

Drew Magazine I Classnotes I College of Liberal Arts

Drew Magazine I Classnotes I College of Liberal Arts

Drew Magazine I Classnotes I College of Liberal Arts

Drew Magazine I Classnotes I College of Liberal Arts

Drew Magazine I Classnotes I College of Liberal Arts

Drew Magazine I Classnotes I College of Liberal Arts

Drew Magazine I Classnotes I College of Liberal Arts

Drew Magazine I Classnotes I College of Liberal Arts

Drew Magazine I Classnotes I College of Liberal Arts

The Caspersen School

PhD

Conley Zommarden T’90, G’98 was welcomed to the pulpit of First Presbyterian Church of Eustis (Florida) in March 2017 as an intern pastor. He is the 22nd pastor to lead First Presbyterian Eustis. Vincent J. Rufino C’02 presented a series of four lectures, based on his doctoral research, at the Library of the Chathamns (New Jersey) in the fall of 2016. Using recordings of music and primary sources, including Mozart family letters, participants were able to discuss how material in the music itself differed from the truth. Vincent is currently in his seventh year as an adjunct professor of music

The Caspersen School

Theological School

Daniel F Rice T’61, C’66 had his essay “Selah and Nobilis: From the Academy to Democracy” published as a chapter in a recent book on the legal scholar Haim Reiss (Haim Reiss in America: Secular Affinities and the Mysteries of Academic Influence (Openion International Publishing, 2016). The book was published in Switzerland.

Theological School

Louis A. Dellafio T’03, an army chaplain, was promoted to the rank of colonel in the United States Army at a ceremony at West Point, New York. After entering active duty as a chaplain in 1995, he has served tours in Panama, Korea, Saudi Arabia, Iraq and Kuwait. He is now stationed at Fort Gordon, Georgia. See photo, page 51.

Theological School

Theological School

Valerie D. Lewis-Moody T’15 was elected to the Black Catholic Theological Symposium at the October 2016 annual meeting at Xavier University of Louisiana in New Orleans. She was also named a member of the Alumni Alumni Advisory Council for African, Hispanic, Asian and Native American (AHANA) student affairs. Valerie was appointed a consultant to the New Energies Parish Transition Project of the Archdiocese of Newark (New Jersey) in September 2016. She was featured in the cover story of the July/August 2016 edition of New Jersey Catholic magazine. She has also joined the theology department at Caldwell University as an adjunct professor of theology.

Theological School

Army chaplain Louis A. Dellafio T’03 was recently promoted to colonel.

Theological School

Daniel F Rice T’61, C’66 had his essay “Selah and Nobilis: From the Academy to Democracy” published as a chapter in a recent book on the legal scholar Haim Reiss (Haim Reiss in America: Secular Affinities and the Mysteries of Academic Influence (Openion International Publishing, 2016). The book was published in Switzerland.

Theological School

Louis A. Dellafio T’03, an army chaplain, was promoted to the rank of colonel in the United States Army at a ceremony at West Point, New York. After entering active duty as a chaplain in 1995, he has served tours in Panama, Korea, Saudi Arabia, Iraq and Kuwait. He is now stationed at Fort Gordon, Georgia. See photo, page 51.

Theological School

Theological School

Valerie D. Lewis-Moody T’15 was elected to the Black Catholic Theological Symposium at the October 2016 annual meeting at Xavier University of Louisiana in New Orleans. She was also named a member of the Alumni Alumni Advisory Council for African, Hispanic, Asian and Native American (AHANA) student affairs. Valerie was appointed a consultant to the New Energies Parish Transition Project of the Archdiocese of Newark (New Jersey) in September 2016. She was featured in the cover story of the July/August 2016 edition of New Jersey Catholic magazine. She has also joined the theology department at Caldwell University as an adjunct professor of theology.

Theological School

Army chaplain Louis A. Dellafio T’03 was recently promoted to colonel.
In Memoriam

The Drew community and its alumni associations extend their heartfelt sympathies to the families and friends of those alumni and members of the Drew community listed below. Our ranks are diminished by their loss.

College of Liberal Arts
Irving Schillman C’46 graduated from Drew and became an executive in the textile industry. Irving and his wife, Ruth, raised three daughters in Englewood, New Jersey, and in 1996, they moved to the Chelsea neighborhood of Manhattan, kept their living outdoors, and he remained active in retirement by teaching and attending senior citizen classes. He passed away at his home in Chelsea on December 31, 2016. He leaves Ruth, their three daughters and six grandchildren.

Harry Wakefield Adams C’47, a native of Hickson, Pennsylvania, purchased a home at age 96 in Palm Desert, California, on March 1, 2017. After graduating from Drew and then earning a theological degree at Yale, he moved west, serving many Methodist churches in California and completing a doctorate degree at the Claremont School of Theology. In 1965, he married with whom he had four children and seven grandchildren.

Robert Emmett Cunningham C’50 died at age 90 in his hometown of Arlington, Texas, on February 21, 2017. The Middletown, New Jersey, native served in the Navy during World War II and then attended Drew, where he met Dinah (Eames) C’50, whom he married before graduation. Bob and Dinah lived in Arlington, Texas, in 1958, where he pursued a career with the Arlington YMCA. He later earned a master’s degree in physical education from the University of Denver, Colorado, and worked in educational guidance for the Air Force. Bob was an enthusiastic travel writer and an active member of his Methodist church. He leaves Dinah, his wife of 66 years, and many relatives, including three children and six grandchildren.

Resident Emeritus Cunningham C’50 passed away on May 16, 2017. He was 78. A native of Hickory, North Carolina, Rand married classmates Sondra Myers Castile C’60. Rand and Sondra shared a love of Asian art that would shape their careers. Rand taught at the St. Thomas Choir School in Manhattan and was also involved with Manhattan’s Japan Society, eventually serving as the Society’s director of education. An expert at fencing from his college days, Rand later tutored the author Yukio Mishima in fencing, in exchange for lessons in Japanese calligraphy, and served as a fencing coach to the St. Thomas Choir School. Rand also tutored the author Yukio Mishima in fencing, in exchange for lessons in Japanese calligraphy, and served as a fencing coach to the St. Thomas Choir School.

An Optimist, a Believer: Professor Emeritus David McConnell Graybeal

Graybeal, who taught in the Theological School for 35 years, passed away on June 2. He was a graduate of both Drew and Kent State University. He had retired as a professor emeritus of theology after graduating from Drew and becoming a Presbyterian minister. Bill leaves his wife, Sue, four children, seven grandchildren and many other family members.

Bill was a graduate of both Drew and Kent State University. He had retired as a professor emeritus of theology after graduating from Drew and becoming a Presbyterian minister. Bill leaves his wife, Sue, four children, seven grandchildren and many other family members. He is also survived by his former wife, Oma; daughter Jean and her family; and son, Chris Wallace, and his family. He was a native of Maryland who attended Drew and then attended seminary in Columbia University. He served as a professor emeritus of theology and died peacefully at age 96, in Mechanicsburg, Pennsylvania, on June 2, 2017. Along with his theological degree from Drew, Harold also earned degrees at Juniata College and Columbia University, and was proud of his long career in social work. He was preceded in death by his wife and one son, he is survived by many loved ones, including his partner Martha, a daughter and two grandchildren.

Arthur F. Hay Jr. C’77, passed away peacefully on October 20, 2016. A resident of Troy, New York, he was 85. The Albion State College graduate was ordained in 1953 and was a veteran of the Marine Corps. Bill was a resident of Drew and Kent State University. He had retired as a professor emeritus of theology after graduating from Drew and becoming a Presbyterian minister. Bill leaves his wife, Sue, four children, seven grandchildren and many other family members. He is also survived by his former wife, Oma; daughter Jean and her family; and son, Chris Wallace, and his family. served Methodist churches in New York state after his theological studies at Drew. Retiring as a district superintendent in 2000, he continued with active parish ministry into his 80s. He is survived by four children, eight grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

William James Donaldson T’78 was born in Oklahoma during the Great Depression, the second of eight children in a family of both Scottish and Cherokee ancestry. A civil rights activist, accordinet player and rodeo rider from an early age, James became a Methodist minister and an editor at Harper & Row in New York City. He eventually settled in the Methow Valley of Washington. A subsequent master’s degree in social work led to private practice as a therapist. James died in Bellingham, Washington, on January 7, 2017, at age 82. He is survived by a sister, a sister-in-law, nieces and nephews, and many dear friends.

Lynn Julian Hampton T’58, a resident of White Plains, Maryland, passed away at the age of 97 on October 27, 2016. A coal miner and boxer, he became a Methodist minister and served for 32 years. Lynn was predeceased by Sybil, his wife of 68 years. He is survived by two daughters, four grandchildren and 14 great-grandchildren.

Howard Jesse Lord T’78 died at the age of 92 on March 6, 2017. The Indianapolis, Indiana, resident was a former resident of the ministry and served churches in Iowa and New Jersey for over 60 years. Preceded in death by one daughter, Howard leaves his wife, Wilma, three children, 15 grandchildren and 24 great-grandchildren.

Charles “Chuck” L. Masker T’79 began singing on the radio with his brothers at age 12, graduated from high school at 16, started preaching at 17 and earned four college degrees. He served Methodist churches in Michigan as pastor until 1975. Thereafter, he had a successful real estate career and taught philosophy and religion. A longtime resident of Pittsburgh, Michigan, he died there on February 17, 2017, at age 71. Chuck was preceded in death by his wife, Loree, his wife of 54 years, and is survived by four sons and many other relatives.

Edward Leigh Mark T’79 earned a bachelor’s degree at the University of Iowa in 1953 and then traveled by tonga boat to India, where he spent four years managing the Methodist Boys’ Hostel in Bengal. He then attended seminary at Drew, married Joan, and together they proceeded to Harvard where he earned a master’s degree. He became a minister at Harvard-Powel United Methodist Church in Cambridge, Massachusetts, in 1964 and served for 32 years. Edward passed away in Cambridge at the age of 85, on October 16, 2016. Preceded in death by Joan, he leaves two children, three grandchildren and a brother.

James A. Bailey T’66 served as a Methodist minister for 58 years, with the support of Jan, his wife of 58 years. His churches were principally located in his native Memphis, but he also served as a student pastor at the Community Church of Mountain Lakes, New Jersey, while working on his master’s degree at Drew. Dean passed away at age 81, a resident of Lowell, Michigan, on January 19, 2017. Dean was preceded in death by Jan and is survived by three children, seven grandchildren and one great-grandson.

Harry John Dutt T’60 was born in South Dakota and passed away in Santa Barbara, California, at the age of 85, on October 29, 2016. A Methodist minister, he served parishes in North Dakota and California. Harry is survived by Anita, his wife of 60 years, three children, four grandchildren and other relatives, including seven siblings. He was preceded in death by one son.

Philip William Walker T’61 studied animal sciences as an undergraduate at Cal Poly San Luis Obispo and proudly resided in the school’s cattle barn, where he was given a small room in return for attending to the cows on campus. He became a Methodist minister and after earning a master’s degree at Drew, was sent to Davis, California, to start a church. His commitment to civil rights and social justice took him to Selma, where he marched with Dr. King. Carol, his wife of 63 years, was his partner in other efforts, such as establishing a suicide prevention program. Phil passed away at age 85 on January 13, 2017, and is survived by Carol and loved ones, including many children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

Leon C. Ziebeler T’61, 50 passed away in Bethlehem, Pennsylvania, on January 23, 2017, at age 84. Born and raised in Pennsylvania, he studied education at Temple University and then became a Methodist minister, attending seminary at Drew. He was also ordained in the Lutheran church. He left full-time parish ministry in 1989 to teach sociology at East Stroudsburg University and to serve as an intern pastor and church consultant. He is survived by his wife, Barbara, three children, six grandchildren and other relatives.

Clyde Allen “Bud” Cox T’62, a proud resident of Lakeland, Ohio, passed away on October 3, 2016. He was 76. Bud was a Methodist pastor for over 40 years, in the East Ohio conference. Bud was generous with his time in support of organizations and causes, including riding his bike with the Pedaling Parsons to raise money for missions. Preceded in death by his first wife, Ellen, he is survived by Suzanne, his wife of 48 years, along with three children, two grandchildren and other relatives.

William A. Johnston T’62 passed away on January 23, 2017, at age 79. He was a resident of Fugua/Yarina, North Carolina. William pursued careers as a social studies teacher and Methodist minister. He is also a Penn graduate of 1960 and continues to live in New Jersey. Jim Connerley, a fellow Purdue alumnus who shared his decision to leave the university a six-figure gift in their will was a no-brainer. That’s six members of the extended Johnston/Benjamin/Wassmann family with your legacy, Drew’s future.
Indiana where Juanita realized her dream of teaching. Juanita continued to assist with her local church and many extended family members.}

Harry was away on October 8, 2016, at the age of 92, a resident of Rockville, Maryland. He passed away in the U.S. and worked to improve health and many extended family members.

Patricia Jeanette Patterson G’63 spent over 37 years as a Congregational pastor. In 1980, joining the faculty at King’s College in New York City as professor of religion, he served on the board of the Rutgers Institute of Arts and the Graduate School at Drew University. He is also credited with putting a personal letterhead on the United Methodist Church Archive Center, and being a resident of Claremont, California, on January 18, 2017, at the age of 80. He is survived by his wife, Ruth, in 2013, and is still involved with the school even after his retirement in 2001. William passed away at age 67, on January 8, 2017. Arthur leaves Jolanda, his wife of 51 years, and many relatives, including two children, three grandchildren and one great-grandson.

Harry Zutz T’87, a native of Randolph, New Jersey, on December 19, 2016. He was a Methodist minister, he taught at all levels at the University of Missouri. Monica taught at the University of Missouri and at Stephens College, both in Columbia, Missouri. She passed away on December 6, 2016, as a resident of Columbia. She is survived by her husband, three children, and five great-grandchildren. She was quoted in 1990 as having dreamt that her epitaph would read “[He made no new contribution to theology.” He explained that he was pleased to realize that creativity need not compel him to invent new doctrine and that his calling could be fulfilled through obedience to apostolic tradition. He leaves two children along with grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

James E. (Jim) C. Garrett, Jr. T’84 was born on Staten Island, New York, on January 29, 1940. He is a Methodist theologian and was quoted in 1990 as having dreamt that his epitaph would read “[He made no new contribution to theology.” He explained that he was pleased to realize that creativity need not compel him to invent new doctrine and that his calling could be fulfilled through obedience to apostolic tradition. He leaves two children along with grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

John Thomas Guzy T’84 was born on Staten Island, New York, on January 29, 1940. He is a Methodist theologian and was quoted in 1990 as having dreamt that his epitaph would read “[He made no new contribution to theology.” He explained that he was pleased to realize that creativity need not compel him to invent new doctrine and that his calling could be fulfilled through obedience to apostolic tradition. He leaves two children along with grandchildren and great-grandchildren.