

Emily Musil Church C'00 -- Achievement in the Liberal Arts

Emily Musil Church C'00 is a strategist and thought leader combining the worlds of research, innovation, and global development. Dr. Church is the Executive Director of the Global Learning XPRIZE, and also works on education and outreach for the Foundation.

Prior to joining XPRIZE, Emily served as a faculty member at American University, Trinity College, and Lafayette College. She has researched, published and taught extensively African history, human rights, and women's global issues.

Dr. Church has a Ph.D. and M.A. from UCLA. She won a Fulbright-Hays Fellowship and has conducted in-depth research in over a dozen countries on three continents. Emily has worked closely with a number of NGOs, focusing especially on the use of media in contemporary social justice movements. She has also served on the Senior Advisory Group for Blended Finance for the Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development (OECD), as well as the Advisory Board of the Center for Technology & Workforce Solutions